

Terms of use with A-TERAM

2021/2/25

By using the Aquatic Tri-trophic Ecological Risk Assessment Model (A-TERAM) provided by the National Institute for Environmental Studies, Center for Environmental Risk and Health Research, you are regarded to have agreed to the following Terms of Use.

1. Definitions of some abbreviations and terms

(1) CHERR

Center for Health and Environmental Risk Research, National Institute for Environmental Studies

(2) This website

Aquatic Tri-trophic Ecological Risk Assessment Model (A-TERAM) Website
<http://www.nies.go.jp/ateram/index.html>

(3) Risk assessment results

All results of ecological risk assessment based on calculation results returned by A-TERAM, in which any ecotoxicity data and environmental exposure data are input.

(4) CSL

Chemical Substances Control Law

2. Use of risk calculation results

When publishing the calculation results using this software in books, academic papers, reports, websites, etc., please cite this website and specify the software name (A-TERAM).

If you set the model parameters other than the default values, please note that as well.

3. On copyright

The copyright of the information posted on this website belongs to CHERR. The information and software provided on this website may not be reprinted or duplicated without permission from CHERR. You are free to use the assessment results from A-TERAM. The source code of A-TERAM cannot be changed and used without permission. If you need it, please contact us with the contact information below.

Contact information: Yokomizo, H. (hiroyuki.yokomizo@nies.go.jp)

Center for Health and Environmental Risk Research, National Institute for Environmental Studies

4. Disclaimer

(1) A-TERAM is not directly involved in the operation of any laws and regulations related to chemical substance management such as the Chemical Substances Control Law. The evaluation results of ecological risk of chemicals do not justify or disprove the legal regulations and treatment of chemical substances.

(2) CHERR is not responsible for any direct or indirect damages caused by the information or evaluation tools provided on this website.

(3) The software provided on this website (A-TERAM ver.1 [Zip compressed format file]) has been confirmed to be not virus-infectious (using Virus Buster Cloud ver: 6.0.3010). However, it is not guaranteed that there is no risk of virus infection.